Two Hundred Are Said to Be Injured—and 100 Homeless

Washington, May 15.—The causualties in the Colorado, Texas tornado were twenty dead and two hundred injured, according to a telegram today to headquarters of the American Red Cross here.

One hundred families are homeless, the wire from the Texas Red Cross headquarters said.

The situation was declared to be well in hand and no outside aid was asked.

Churches and undamage homes have been converted into hospitals and havens for the homeless.

Colorado City, Tex., May 15.—Fifteen known dead, scores injured and numerous homes in ruins tell the story of a cyclone that swept through Mitchell county. The dead may exceed 50 when wire communication has been restored.

The cyclone cut a swath 300 yards wide and 30 miles long through the Colorado river valley, a rich farming country, thickly populated. Bodies of the dead and injured were brought to Colorado City. They were gathered from the ruins of ranch houses. Churches and private homes were converted into hospitals and morgues.

Doctors and nurses were rushed here from Sweetwater and Lorraine. Tents from Fort Bliss have been sent to shelter the homeless, which at last estimates exceeded 100. The property loss was not confined to Mitchell county. After the cyclone had spent its force a terrific gale, accompanied by rain and hail, swept eastward.

W. H. Cooper, secretary of the Colorado City chamber of commerce, said the damage could not be accurately estimated until more detailed reports had been received. Estimates placed the property loss at approximately $1,000,000.

Colorado City escaped with comparatively light loss. The storm centered between this city and Lorraine. Scores of farm houses were demolished in this district and telephone communication destroyed. It is believed when communication is restored reports will be received of greater loss of life.

The number of injured accounted for is approximately 100. There are 75 injured now being cared for here. They were brought to Colorado City by automobile rescue parties, which left for a tour of the district after the storm. Rescue work was retarded by flooded highways. Many of the dead and injured are children.

Rescue parties returning here said the prairie was swept bare as a floor over wide areas. Ranch houses and outbuildings were torn up by the roots. Many of the dead and injured lived on the Spade ranch, a few miles south of Colorado City. Live stock loss will be heavy.

GRAND OPERA SINGER MISSING IN THE EAST

Boston, Mass., May 15.—Lydia Lindgren, missing grand opera singer, who disappeared in New York yesterday, was found here this afternoon. She came to the federal building here to secure final naturalization papers and left word she would later visit friends in Boston. Her husband Raul Quirze, operatic tenor, had reported her disappearance to New York police.

New York, May 15.—Lydie Lindgren, grand opera singer, sometimes referred to as the "Swedish nightingale," has been mysteriously missing since yesterday afternoon, her husband, Paul Quirze, operatic tenor reported to police today.

She wore a 9½ carat diamond solitaire, a pearl necklace and other jewelry valued at $14,000. Her husband said she also might have had a large sum of money.

Quirz said his wife failed to keep a business engagement with her lawyer, Mrs. Anna Hochfelder, yesterday afternoon. He had driven her to the attorney's office in the financial district. He waited in his automobile until 8:30 p. m. but she failed to appear. He said he spent the rest of the night telephoning friends and the hospitals.

He told police he was at a loss to explain her absence. He said there had been no domestic trouble.

Lydia Lindgren is 34 years old. She has sung with both Metropolitan and Chicago opera.

U. S. IS NOT SEEKING SPECIAL ADVANTAGE AT MEXICAN MEET

This Nation Declares Principle of Justice Must Prevail

Mexico City, May 15.—Charles Beecher Warren, who is here with John Barton Payne as representatives of the United States to negotiate possible recognition of the government of President Alvaro Obregon, laid the conditions of the United States before the Mexican commission.

In his opening remarks Mr. Warren outlined the view that while the United States has no wish or desire to interfere with Mexican laws or internal affairs, it is necessary that there be an understanding concerning American property. There can be no compromise on principle, it was emphasized. Any agreements reached should be binding and lasting. Mr. Warren's statement, in part, follows:

"The government of the United States, nor the people of the United States, seek no special advantage in Mexico, no rights which they are not willing to share with others. We have no intention or desire of interfering with the sovereignty of Mexico. We are convinced, however, that certain principles are essential as the basis of economic co-operation between nations. The principles of justice recognized by international law must prevail between nations, in order that trade and commerce may flow with a feeling of certainty between different peoples."

POLICEMAN'S SLAYER SOUGHT FOR CRIME

Cleveland, O., May 15.—John Leonard Whitfield, alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, was to be formally charged with murder by the Cupahoga County Grand Jury today. At the same time the nation-wide search for the man believed to have killed the policeman while they were driving to the fourteenth precinct police station, was on with redoubled vigor. Clues to his whereabouts and that of the woman, Miss Marie Price of Fort Wayne, Indiana, with whom he left Cleveland after burying his victim in a lonely spot in Geauga County, Friday afternoon, were few.

SENATOR HARRISON DINES WITH FORD

Washington, May 15.—Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi came back from Detroit with some kind words about Henry Ford. Senator Harrison was in Detroit with other members of the senate committee on reforestation. He was shown through the automobile plant by Ford himself, and later dined with him. The senator admitted that he was very favorably impressed with Ford's attitude on public questions, as well as with his knowledge of what is going on in the country and in the world in general. As to the prospects of Ford becoming a candidate for president, Senator Harrison was unable to obtain any definite intimation as to what Ford's views on this subject are. Nor was he able to discover whether Ford might try for the Democratic nomination or run independently.

URGE RELEASE OF IRISH PRISONERS

London, May 15.—Home Secretary William Clive Bridgeman informed the House of Commons this afternoon that England is requesting the Irish Free State to release all the Irish men and women who were deported from England to Ireland. All the Irish arrested and detained in England for their activities in behalf of the Irish-Republican cause will be liberated. Some of these prisoners, however, must face criminal proceedings in British courts.

ABANDONS BUSINESS CAREER.

Chicago, May 15.—Muriel McCormick abandoned her business career to devote all her time to preparation for grand opera. The smart gown shop which she sponsored shortly before her father, Harold F. McCormick, married Ganna Walska, announced a "final clearance sale of gowns and wraps." The shop, it was said, would be closed.

LOST TWO HEIRLOOMS.

Pekin, May 15.—Miss Lucy Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is grieving more over the loss of two heirlooms than any other feature of the Shantung bandit holdup, of which she was one of the victims. Miss Aldrich, her companion, Miss McFadden, and her French maid, Mlle. Schloborn, are now recovering from nervous shock at the Pekin Union hospital at the Rockefeller foundation.

HITCH APPEARS IN SETTLEMENT WITH BRIGANDS

Prisoners Still in Hands of Bandits in the Mountains

Pekin, May 15.—Despite the promise of diplomats that the release of captives including Americans, by the Shantung train bandits, might be expected hourly, a settlement today seemed to have been delayed. Latest advices from Lincheng said that the prisoners were still in the hands of the brigands in the mountains.

General Tsao-Kun, inspector general of the Chinese national troops in Shauntung province, who is responsible for the safety of foreigners traveling through that province, did not seem interested in the capture of American, French, British, Mexicacn and Italian citizens by the brigands. it was two days after the seizure before General Tsao-Kun sent a representative to Pekin to inform the government of the "unfortunate incident."

It was reported from Lincheng that the bandit chiefs refused to conclude negotiations with the representatives of the government and the national military authorities until the soldiers who have been besieging the brigands stronghold from a nearby mountain top are withdrawn. The bandit leaders demand that the forces be enrolled at once in the regular army. The governor of Shantung province has agreed to the bandits demands but the latter are distrustful especially of the agreement that they will be granted immunity from their depredations if they release their captives. Meanwhile, they hold on to their prisoners, prolonging negotiations. There are about 15 foreigners still held by the bandits, including two women.

MEETS DEATH AFTER ATTENDING FUNERAL—CAR TURNS OVER

After attending the funeral of his brother, William Lawson, at Yellow Springs, John Lawson, 43, of 167 Mink Street, Columbus was instantly killed at six o'clock Monday evening, when his machine overturned one mile west of Summerford on the National pike. Lawson was enroute home after attending the funeral of his brother earlier in the afternoon, accompanied by his wife ,two nieces, a step-daughter, and sister, when he met his death.

Lawson lost control of the machine on the wet pike, the machine overturning in the ditch pinning Lawson beneath. His neck was broken and his skull fractured. The other members of the party escaped with minor injuries. The automobile was demolished.

Lawson's body was taken to the undertaking establishment of W. E. Lukens, London, and will be removed from there to his home in Columbus. He leaves his wife and two daughters Hazel and Goldie.

URGES TARIFF ON SUGAR BE CUT

Washington, May 15.—Cutting the tariff on sugar in half was urged by Senator Harrison (Dem., Miss.) as the most effective weapon to be used against the sugar barons, who are responsible for the existing high prices. "The president could solve the situation at once by slicing the tariff in two, as he is empowered to do by the tariff law," Senator Harrison said.

"This would save at least $100,000,000 to American sugar consumers. The people throughout the country are dissatisfied with the situation, and it is time the administration did something. Reduction of the tariff would do more than anything else to bring down the sugar prices and it ought to be done at once."

The Democratic national committee issued a statement saying that unless the price of sugar drops, thousands of women will confront President Harding on his forthcoming tour with the question, "What are you going to do to stop this profiteering?"

HERRICK ENJOINED FROM PROCEEDING WITH PAVING WORK

Three Suits Filed Charging Collusion Between Firm and Director

Columbus, May 15.—The Highway Construction company of Elyria, O., filed four mandamus suits in Ohio supreme court to compel Finance Director Baker to approve payments from the state treasury on road contracts awarded the company by Director Herrick. The company charges that, although regularly awarded the contracts, Baker has refused to approve vouchers for partial payment due the company and that they therefore have been unable to obtain any money and will be unable to go ahead with their contracts.

The supreme court is asked to require Baker to show cause why he should not approve the vouchers or else compel him to approve them. The contracts involved cover approximately 20 miles of road, all in Lorain county. Contract price for the roads total $579,611.

Common Pleas Judge Sowers granted an order temporarily restraining State Treasurer Day from paying further monies to the Highway Construction company on the contracts. The injunction was secured by E. C. Slack, a local taxpayer, who charges that contractors who bid on the jobs were discriminated against by Director Herrick.

CLOUDBURST PRECEDES FIRES IN HOT SPRINGS DAMAGE IS APPALLING

Arkansas City Scene of Indescribable Confusion With Fire Consuming Buildings and Flood Waters Racing Through Streets.

WIRE COMMUNICATION ENTIRELY CUT OFF

Disaster Starts Monday Evening When Heavy Storm Strikes Town—Lightning Plays Havoc With Houses of Stricken City.

St. Louis, Mo., May 15.—Seventeen persons are known to have been killed and a large number of others are missing at Hot Springs, Ark., following the flood and fires there early today, according to a telegram to William M. Baxter Jr., director of the American Red Cross. The telegram said search for additional dead is being pushed forward rapidly.

At the general offices of the Missouri Pacific railway here early today, word was received from a train dispatcher at Hot Springs that the fire was believed to have been brought under control, but the message was so fragmentary and indefinite that it was not accepted as entirely authentic. The operator at Hot Springs confirmed early reports to the Red Cross that seventeen persons were known to have been killed and said many more must have lost their lives.

Chicago, May 15—Hot Springs, Arkansas, a city of 15,000 and with a large tourist population, today is a scene of indescribable confusion with fire consuming its buildings and flood waters racing through the streets.

Wire communciation with the stricken city is entirely cut off and only fraghmentary reports of the disaster could be gathered early today by International News Service over shaky wires to Oklahoma and Tennessee towns. Many lives are reported to have been lost and damage is appalling.

At dawn the St. Louis headquarters of the American Red Cross received the following message from the Red Cross representative in Hot Springs:

"Terrible flood and fire. Damage indescribable. Will need immediate assistance."

National headquarters at Washington immediately was advised of the town's desperate plight, according to William M. Baxter, Jr., the St. Louis Red Cross representative. Preparations were being made to start Henry Baker, division director of relief, to Hot Springs and search was being made for an airplane to carry him. National headquarters directed that no effort be spared to get relief to the town.

At dawn a high wind was reported howling through the streets of the city as an aftermath of the cloudburst. Flames were being driven before it in a raging furnace.

The Marquette hotel and the Marquette block, a business structure adjoining, were reported consumed by the flames. Some persons are believed to have lost their lives in fleeing from the buildings but no estimate has been made of the number of lives lost.

What the loss of life may be from the rushing flood waters is problematical. It may run into large figures or it may be very small. Scores of automobiles are known to have been caught in Central avenue, one of the principal business streets of the city, when the flood was at its height.

Long distance communication here said the tracks of the Missouri Pacific railway were swept away for a distance of four miles beyond the city. A passenger train laden with tourists was said to have been stalled at Denton, a small town nearby. It is not known whether lives of the passengers are endangered. The flood started just before dusk yesterday, when a heavy storm struck the town and quickly became a cloudburst. Terrific electrical displays accompanied it. The full force of the storm struck the mountains to the north and continued most of the night. The water accumulating too fast to pass to the lower levels with natural speed, quickly filled streams, which, overflowing, turned their torrents into Hot Springs.

Rushing from Whittington Park and into Central avenue, the depth of the flood grew, until in places, it is said to have reached nine feet.

Pedestrains were swept from their feet and into the surging maelstorm.

Fronts of stores were smashed in, basements and cellars were inundated and thousands of dollars worth of merchandise floated from the houses into the streets. The streets were filled with maddened citizens attempting to escape to higher points. Lightning began its havoc. Several buildings were struck. The city's fire fighting apparatus was helpless. With fires burning in several localities a general conflagration, the cause of which has not been determined, early today, broke out and added to the terror of the night.

The Marquotte hotel, it is known, was one of the first buildings to burst into flames from a lightning bolt.

BARN IS DESTROYED BY FIRE MONDAY NIGHT—LOSS $5,000

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the dairy barn on the Frank Routzong farm, Fairfield pike between eight and nine o'clock Monday night, resulting in a loss of practically $5,000.

The blaze started while members of the family were away from home and by the time it was discovered the entire building was enveloped. Before members of the family and neighbors arrived at the scene, the building was practically ready to fall in, and the fire had made such headway that no attempt was made to check it.

Mr. and Mrs. Routzong were in the barn at seven o'clock and there was no indication of a fire. Shortly afterward they went to the Collins School less than a mile away, to attend a meeting of the Community Club. People gathered at the school house first discovered the blaze about 8:45 o'clock and hurried to the scene in an attempt to save the structure.

The dairy barn was a frame structure, 40 by 60 feet and of entirely modern construction. Cattle had been released from it before the family left home, but between 100 and 150 chickens were consumed in the holocaust occasioned by the burning building. The contents also included 5 tons of hay, 100 bushels of corn and two or three tons of commercial feed. Members of the family say the blaze could not have started from electric wires and that combustion in the hay is improbable, but they are able to advance no practical theory of the origin of the flames, although unable to assert that the conflagration was due to incendiarism.

The wind carried sparks away from the house, eight or ten rods from the dairy barn and from the other barn, which is about 15 rods from the building that was destroyed, and none of these structures caught from sparks. The loss of $5,000 is partially covered by insurance.

TROUBLE IN GETTING WITNESSES FOUND

New York, May 15.—Difficulty of getting witnesses to come forward in the investigation of "poison pen" letters, which wrecked nine homes, caused one suicide and sent several persons to the insane asylum, is increasing daily. Several have disappeared from New York. Society women of Philadelphia and elsewhere, who were attacked in the scurrilous letters, are reluctant to come here, and many have flatly refused to do so. While friends of George Maxwell, leader in musical circles, are defending him on the charges of being the author of the letters, the district attorney's office declares the evidence against Maxwell is strong.

HAMILTON MOVERS HERE SUNDAY

Frank Hamilton's Movers of Cincinnati will help entertain local baseball fans at Washington Park, when they stack up against the Bayliffs, next Sunday.

The Movers have been playing a bang-up article of ball this season and out of three games played have not dropped a single contest. Wherever they have played a large crowd has turned out to watch them in action. The Queen City bunch has a nifty combination and just about as good as the best of the semi-pro clubs. The Movers are in the K. I. O. League of Cincinnati.

Burg will do the twirling for the Queen City bunch while Hamilton who is manager will do the receiving. The balance of the team is of high class calibre.

The Bayliffs are anticipating a hard game. Manager Bayliff will probably start McDonnell or Cooper on the mound. Both of these flingers are hard workmen and have a nice assortment of puzzling twisters. Bayne of Dayton, will be behind the plate. The same bunch of warriors that started in Sunday's game will be on hand again. Play will start at 2:30 o'clock with Rachford and Davis in charge. Manager Bayliff wishes that all the players be at Washington Park on Wednesday evening at five o'clock or later for practice.

Wilberforce Wins Shutout Game

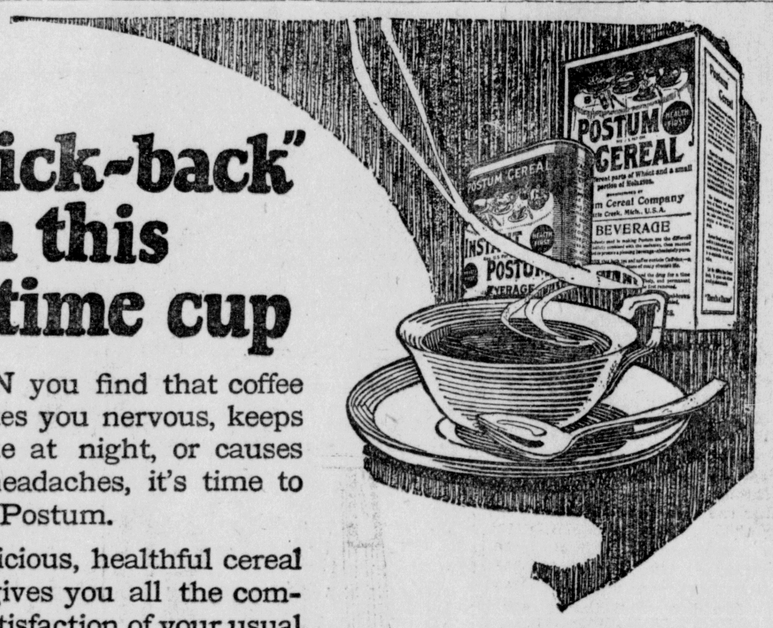

A battle of the Jones' was staged at Wilberforce University ball yard Monday afternoon, when two lads with the same unusual monickers opposed each other on the hillock and turned in a hurling duel that featured the 4 to 0 shutout victory the Wilberforce nine registered over West Varginia Institute of Charlestown, W. Va.

A. Jones of Wilberforce and T. Jones of the Institute nine turned in as sweet an exhibition of mound work as ever seen at Wilberforce, the Ohio hurler having the edge in the duel, while his teammates supported him more carefully than did the defense accorded the visiting tosser. A. Jones permitted but two hits in registering his whitewash victory, while T. Jones allowed the Wilberforce gang five hits and enough to win.

The game was delayed because of an eleventh-hour protest of Spriggs, Wilberforce's star outfielder, on the grounds that the gardener was formerly registered at the institute. Wilberforce won the argument and it was Spriggs' hit in the eighth that brought in the last two counters for Wilberforce and iced the contest. The games was played before 1,500 fans and if the diamond is in condition, they are to repeat Tuesday afternoon. The score:

Wilberforce	4	5	3
West Virgina	0	2	5

Batteries—Wilberforce— Jones and Huff; West Virginia —Jones and Drewery.

CENTRAL GRADUATES PREPARE FOR FINAL SCHOOL EXERCISES

In spite of the fact that the new Central High School building was not ready for the junior-senior reception held last week, positive assurance has ben given that the structure will be completed in time to house the annual Commencement exercises to be held May 25.

Plans for the junior reception were changed at the last minute because promised completion of the basement dining room at the new school was not forthcoming, and the annual affair was held in the home of many of its predecessors, the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Anxiety as to wether the class of 1923 would be able to go through its graduation exercises in the new building were set aside Tuesday with the announcement of Supt. of Schools C. A. Waltz that the sixty-fourth annual Commencement of Central High will be held in the Jean B. Elwell auditorium of the new building Friday, May 25, at eight o'clock in the evening. The class address will be delivered by Charles E. Watkins of the General Motors Corporation, Muncie, Indiana.

Pupils of all schools are requested to return to their respective buildings Friday, May 25, at one o'clock to receive their final reports. Parents are urged to see that the children report at the correct time.

WORK CERTIFICATES MUST BE OBTAINED

School children between the ages of 14 and 18 years, will have to obtain working certificates from Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz if they wish to seek employment this summer, it is announced.

Governor Donahey's veto of the Bloom amendment to the original Bing Bill, leaves the original school law stand and makes it necessary for children to obtain the certificates to permit them to work during vacation periods.

When the amendment was passed Superintendent Waltz told several applicants that they would not need working certificates this summer. The Governor's veto however, reverting the law to its original provisions, makes it necessary for these certificates to be obtained.

ROTARY MEMBERS HEAR ADDRESS ON MINING OF COAL

The mining and selling of coal, from the mines to the retail dealer, was explained by J. J. Stout, president of the Stout Coal Company, this city, in an address before members of the Xenia Rotary Club, following the club luncheon, Tuesday noon.

Mr. Stout explained the operation of the coal mines, the expense of mining the coal, building of railroads installation of machinery, and details of the work of the coal miner. Despite the fact that the operator gets only $1 a ton for the coal, according to Mr. Stout, he is able to make big money. The interesting operation of the transportation of coal by electric railways, and the sorting work was explained by the speaker. Between 60 and 80 cars are loaded each day, according to Mr. Stout. The miner plays only a small part in the coal business, and is handicapped by the unions, he said. At present, Mr. Stout said, the railroads, are not able to handle the business the coal mines are giving them. The people are demanding lump coal, which causes the inferior grades to be discarded, he explained.

C. W. Murphy, president, was in charge of the meeting. Frank H. Hermies, Dayton Rotarian, was present at the meeting, and gave a short talk.

"I TOLD YOU SO," IS TOKIO CHORUS ON CHINA AFFAIR.

Reports circulating in Tokio that the United States contemplates armed intervention and possibly a punitive expedition in China as a result of the bandits' attack on foreigners, evokes from the Japanese press, a chorus of "I told you so" and a warning to the Government to watch America. The nationalistic "Kokumin" declares the United States knows nothing of China and unjustly accused Japan of aggressive intentions when the latter previously suggested more effective means of protecting foreigners in China.

"The United States and Great Britain thought they were helping China when they pressed for the withdrawal of Japanese postoffices and Japanese troops here," says the "Kokumin," "but doubtless they are disillusioned now. Can they now regard China as a civilized country and treat her people as civilized? It is most important that measures to prevent a recurrence be taken."

The "Yorodzu" says Japan will not take direct action as Japanese are not involved, but should America proceed she would not keep silent. "America has a blind ambition in China and should be watched keenly," the paper warns.

The "Asahi," which received the prediction of United States action from its New York correspondent, in an editorial will advise caution. Foreign Office officials who were interviewed said Japan only awaited action by other Powers, and that she probably would be willing to participate in concerted action to safeguard foreigners' lives and property.

Owing to China's recent demands on Japan, the editors are taking special pains to point out the obvious short-comings of the pseudo-government at Peking.

The "Nichi Nichi" says: "The old saying that eloquence and fidelity do not go together applies to China. Ever since the Treaty of Versailles she has resorted to the subtlest methods to prejudice Japan before the world. She promised much and has done nothing. It is to be hoped that the Powers will realize their mistake of over-confidence in China."

The "Hochi" says: "The bandits' attack has made the gravest incident in China for years. We earnestly urge the Chinese Government and people to endeavor to put their own house in order before trying to compel others to respect their sovereignty and territorial rights."

LET US SUPPOSE A CASE.

We do not believe that it is prejudice that prompts us to take exception to the assertion of one of our Democratic contemporaries who says that the United States "double-crossed" our associates in the war when we refused to ratify the Versailles Treaty with its League of Nations covenant.

Before proceeding to a statement of what was done at Versailles let us present a somewhat similar situation when individuals are involved. Let us suppose that negotiations are pending among a number of concerns, one of them a partnership in which the consent of both partners is necessary before an agreement can be concluded. One partner goes to participate in the negotiations with full knowledge on the part of the other concerns that he cannot bind his firm without the consent of the other partner. While the negotiations are proceeding, the absent partner learns that it is planned to include in the agreement a certain clause to which he strenuously objects. In order that he may not be later charged with bad faith, he notifies all the parties that he will not ratify if they include the objectionable clause. Notwithstanding that notice, the other concerns and the one partner proceed to complete the agreement. The other partner refuses to ratify, as he said he would, and the agreement is not effected. Under such circumstances, any man who declared that the partnership had "double-crossed" the other negotiators would be a plain, everyday liar.

Just such a proceeding took place during the Versailles conference. It was known in advance to all the nations there represented that the Constitution of the United States expressly provides that no treaty shall become binding upon the United States until ratified by a two-thirds vote of the Senate. Mr. Wilson went to Versailles and undertook to insert a league of nations provision in the treaty. His partner in the treaty-making power, the Senate, notified him and the other negotiators that they would not ratify the treaty unless permitted to make proper reservations safeguarding America. Nevertheless, they all went ahead and concluded the agreement, with the league covenant included, and the absent partner refused to ratify, as he said he would.

Did the United States "double-cross" the other parties to the agreement? Not at all.

-PE-RU-NA-
Right Medicine for Catarrh of the Stomach
It took Mr. John Wick of Menominee Falls, Wisconsin, ten years to discover this fact but he has been a well man since. He writes: "I have been a user of Pe-ru-na for nearly twenty years. For about ten years I had catarrh of the stomach. Nothing did me any good. I grew worse until a friend advised me to try Pe-ru-na. I knew I had found the right medicine after using the first bottle. My weight was down to 135 pounds. I now weigh 195. I feel entirely cured and have had little use for medicine the last ten years."
Pe-ru-na has proved to be a wonderfully good medicine to keep in the house for everyday ills such as coughs, colds, catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders and other catarrhal conditions.

You wouldn't even "borrow" a ladder like this
A complete chain of boiling points is as essential to good motor fuel as an unbroken flight of rungs to a ladder. To function efficiently and economically, gasoline must have a low initial "boiling point" to make it vaporize easily—start the motor quickly, a connecting series of gradually rising "boiling points" that it may burn up clean—provide smooth, fast acceleration, and the proper body of higher "boiling points" to produce great heat—full power and big mileage.
Red Crown Gasoline has this complete chain of boiling points. It gives you the strongest and cheapest ladder to the highest point of year-'round motoring satisfaction. Available everywhere in Ohio. Always dependable, whether bought at one of the 400 Standard Service Stations or from any Red Crown dealer.

OVER TWENTY EIGHT THOUSAND CHICKS HATCHED AT BABB'S

More than twenty-eight thousand fluffy little baby chicks have peeped their greetings to the gay spring world at the Babb Hardware Co., hatchery this season and at the tender age of only one day have been shipped to buyers in various parts of the country.

Large numbers of them are sold to poultry raisers in this county and throughout this state but many of the tiny fowls take long trips by parcel post, and go to buyers in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Texas, Florida and Mississippi.

All are thoroughbreds of the three most popular breeds, the Barred Plymouth Rocks, Single Comb Rhode Island Reds and Buff Orpingtons.

The Babb hatchery has a huge incubator with a capacity for 10,500 eggs and is kept full all through the hatching season. Every Monday from 2,000 to 2,500 chicks are hatched out and the next day are shipped out to the purchasers. The big incubator has a heating system that keeps the temperature automatically regulated so that there is practically no variation of temperature. The tiny chicks are kept in trays in the lower part of the incubator.

The hatching season is from February to June.

NO BREAK FEARED BY GREAT BRITAIN

London, May 15—It was regarded as virtually certain today that there would be no break between Great Britain and soviet Russia over the ultimatum sent by Foreign Secretary Lord Curzon to Moscow.

Britain's Russian policy was under debate in the house of commons today. Tory "whips" were active, getting all government supporters into their seats, for it was anticipated that the English policy towards Moscow, particularly as outlined in the trawler ultimatum, would come under heavy fire.

GAINED TEN POUNDS IN 6 WEEKS

Youngstown Woman Recovers Health Taking Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup.

"I not only gained ten pounds in the six weeks I've been taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, but I am now feeling better in every way than I have in many years" said Mrs. Emma M. McCoy, 646 Mahoning Ave., Youngstown, O., the other day.

"For years I had been troubled with a torpid liver and chronic constipation. My tongue was coated, my breath offensive and I could hardly eat enough to keep alive. I could never sleep sound at night and often dizzy spells would cause me to reel and stagger when I tried to walk. I lost about fifteen pounds and looked like I had no blood in my veins.

"After taking three bottles of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup my constipation has been relieved. my liver is acting right, my dizziness is gone, a good healthy color has come into my cheeks and I am gaining in strength and energy every day. I felt so fine that I persuaded my sister to try it and it has simply done wonders for her, too."

DR. C. G. M'PHERSON RESIGNS POSITION AS HEAD OF LEGION

Dr. C. G. McPherson, newly elected city commissioner, tendered his resignation as commander of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion at the Post meeting Monday night.

Dr. B. R. McClellan, chaplain of Foody Post since its organization, was elected to succeed Dr. McPherson as commander and a new chaplain will be appointed later.

Dr. McPherson's resignation takes effect May 24, at which time he will be sworn in as a member of the commission. The constitution and by-laws of the Legion provide that no member holding public office can also hold office in the Legion and necessitated the new commissioner resigning his position as head of the Post.

Dr. McPherson had served only a few months of his term as commander. Plans for stimulating the membership campaign at the behest of State Commander Gilbert Bettman of Cincinnati who hopes to greatly increase the membership of the Ohio Department this year, were discussed at the meeting. PASSING AUTOISTS TAKE FANCY TO DOG; OWNERS SEEKING IT

"Psyche," a fox terrier belonging to Mr and Mrs. J. B. Rife, of near Cedarville, had such attraction for motorists near the Rife farm Sunday afternoon, that she was taken up and carried away in a machine, with her owners looking on.

The dog, a clever little canine, with brown markings, was on the road, near the Rife farm, which is situated between Cedarville and Clifton, when a party in a machine, returning from hunting mushrooms, saw the dog, and by whistles and entreaties carried her away. Mrs. Rife saw the incident, but was unable to stop the theft. Mr. and Mrs. Rife are using every means to secure the return of the dog.

The Goodrich Fundamental Principle

To make only tires of the greatest value, and to sell them at the fairest price has always been the basic policy of Goodrich.

The success of Silvertown Cords is conclusive proof of the soundness of this principle. Silvertowns embody all that must be in tires.

Goodrich makes only the one grade of Cord tires. The reputation of Goodrich is valued too highly to permit the name to appear on a tire which might fall short of its users rightful expectations.

In this way Goodrich keeps faith with the millions who trust to Silvertowns for full value and economy of service. Your Goodrich dealer sells Silvertowns in every size. His stock is new and fresh.

SHOULD CELEBRATE MEMORIAL DAY IN SPIRIT OF OCCASION

In anticipation of the annual Memorial Day ceremonies, in which Lewis Post, G. A. R., is leaning more on the shoulders of members of the younger patriotic organizations, the Post, through J. W. Hedges, chairman of the memorial committee, has given out the following statement:

"The General Order of General Logan, establishing Memorial Day, provided only for remembrance of the honored dead of the Civil War.

"Common usage, however, immediately included care and attenton to the graves of those who had fought in previous wars. When the veterans of the Spanish American War came home after their services in all parts of the country they offered their aid to the older comrades in carrying out the program outlined and for 20 years wherever there has been an organization of those soldiers the spirit of cooperation has held forth.

"With the advent of millions of veterans of the World War with their local organizations reaching every village and hmlet, another great body for the carrying on the work is at hand. Just who it is that takes charge of these observances is a matter to be determined by local conditions.

"There are thousands of places where there are no Grand Army men left to observe the day. In such cases other organizations should co-operate and take the position of the Grand Army of the Republic, sacredly observing the day. Only where the Grand Army is still strong enough to carry on the work, it should go to the front in leading the exercises because of its history and seniority. The G. A. R. in Xenia is thankful to all orders for their help as we are not able to carry on this great task. All that we expect of the junior veterans is that they will take up wherever they may be this sacred work, and perform it in the spirit and ideals which the Grand Army has maintained for a half century. Co-operation in this sacred duty should be the aim of all.

"For 50 years the Grand Army of the Republic has striven to make Memorial Day a sacred Sabbath of American patriotism. It has stubbornly and tenaciously fought for this high ideal for Memorial Day and it has frowned upon all efforts to make it a common holiday with horse racing and baseball and other sporting events. It is a day of remembrance for all men, who have responded to the Nation's call for defenders and all of them are of equal merit in the eyes of the Grand Army of the Republic.

"The day should be sacredly observed in every part of the country, in each village and cross roads, where are found the graves of men who once rallied to the defense of the flag. On such a sacred day there can be no rivalry only emulation.

"All veterans alike should be remembered on May 30. Let the graves of every man who served in any war be remembered this Memorial Day.

"The G. A. R. would be thankful if all orders would join with us in the parade and help make the day a pride to the flag.

"(Signed) J. W. Hedges,
Chairman, Memorial Committee"

Firemen worked more than an hour to finally extinguish the conflagration with several streams of water playing on the burning building. The fire was discovered by neighbors and the alarm sent in shortly after nine o'clock. Included in contests lost was secondhand furniture.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

Ann Peabody, a New England girl, marries Dick Belden, a California rancher. The latter is a fine, hard-working chap, but with weaknesses that worry his wife. Grace Edmunds, an adventure loving, unscrupulous girl interferes with the happiness of the Belden home. Dick is flattered by her attentions, and when Ann objects, grows angry. He say he will be "tied to no woman's apron strings," and shows his resentment openly. Finally he invites Grace to stay with them, although Ann declared that if Grace comes she goes. Grace accepts Dick's invitation, and, with Nora and little Jack, Ann makes Dr. Grayson's home headquarters. Grace and Dick quarrel. The former leaves the Belden ranch and succeeds in kidnaping little Jack. Dick, frantic, recalls Ann. Hugh Norton finds Jack.

Chapter LXXXV

When Hugh said that Grace declared Dick had virtually made her mistress of his home, Ann flushed a deep red, then grew pale. Was it—could it be true that Dick had gone so far? She looked at him, and the anger in his face, his blazing eyes somewhat reassured her.

"She lies," he said hoarsely, to no one in particular.

"Where is she now?" Bessie asked.

"On her way to your ranch, I believe. Said she was going for her clothes, that she hated every one of you. She was very bitter at you, Bess for coming over every day and staying."

"What else could I do?" Bessie asked. "I couldn't—"

"Had you not, Bess, I should have not remained in the house at night," Dick said in a low voice. "I was planning to sleep in the tool house."

"I believe you, Dick!" Hugh said heartily. "You are too much of a man to compromise a girl, even if you were angry at Ann."

Ann looked up in astonishment at Hugh's plain speaking, surprised he had mentioned Dick's anger at her.

"Well, I suppose I'd better go home," Bessie broke in. "I have a few things to say to Grace before she goes—of she does go."

Hugh lingered.

Ann took little Jack into the house. He was full of chatter about "Gace," and sleeping in the hotel. Ann gathered that Gracec had been very kind to him, that she had kept him ocntented and happy. She had been so fearful that something might happen to him that in a way his babyish account of the good time had softened her a bit toward Grace. She gave him his luncheon, put him to bed for his nap, then joined Dick and Hugh on the porch.

"I've had it out with this silly husband of yours, Ann. We are friends again. That he should be jealous of me, of any expression of gratitude I made, is inconceivable. That he was, proves he didn't care much for anyone else, even if he did act as if he did. I'll toddle along after Bess now, and will tow your car back here. You may need it."

"Hugh, have you any idea what she was going to do with Jack if you had not caught her?" Ann asked.

"Probably brought him back herself before night," he said. But as he drove away, his face was very serious. He had not told them that Grace had declared her intention to take the boy to San Francisco, to give them a good scare, because of the way Ann, and then Dick had treated her. He intended to have another talk with Grace, to make her understand she could expect no mercy if she interfered with the Belden household again.

They were alone at last. Ann heard Nora bustling about, cleaning the house, but Dick sat with his head bowed, evidently oblivious to everything but his thoughts. Finally he spoke:

"Ann, shall we commence all over again? There is no use talking of what is passed. And believed it or not, I have been punished enough— three days of hell," the last so low she scarcely caught it and evidently spoken to himself. "You must believe that I have not been unfaithful, Ann, bad as things look. I was crazy and she made me more so, made me believe you didn't care for me, that you loved Hugh."

Ann waited, silent. After a bit Dick went on: "I was sort of wild over her. She was so bright and—different. I guess she knew it as that, her difference. I am not making apology, Ann, not even asking you to forgive me—but shall we commence all over again or are you too disgusted with me to try?"

Still Ann was silent. How like Dick to make no plea for forgiveness. But he was suffering, ashamed, that she knew. His desire to get even had put him in an unenviable position with everyone they knew at all intimately. And in spite of her doubts, her knowledge that he rad made love to Grace, she believed him when he said he had gone no further; that he had not been unfaithful.

He raised his eyes to her, pleading boyish eyes.

"Dick, will you do somthing for—all of us?" she asked She had been about to say "for me," then changed it.

"Anything, Ann. What is it?"

"Will you swear, sign a pledge never to drink again?"

"Why, Ann—"

"I mean it, Dick. I believe that had you never drunk this never would have happened. Will you?"

"Yes, Ann, I'll swear never to touch a drop again, although I can't quite see the connection"

Ann went into the house, wrote out a pledge, brought it to him and he signed it. So far she had not mentioned Grace's name to him. He waited, moving uneasily in his chair, sure that she would speak of her.

Tomorrow—Ann and Dick.

TEXAS CYCLONE TAKES 20 LIVES IN FARM COUNTY

Rich Agricultural Section Laid Waste By Nature's Disturbance.

HOUSES ARE RAZED

Two Hundred Are Said to Be Injured—and 100 Homeless

Washington, May 15.—The causualties in the Colorado, Texas tornado were twenty dead and two hundred injured, according to a telegram today to headquarters of the American Red Cross here.

One hundred families are homeless, the wire from the Texas Red Cross headquarters said.

The situation was declared to be well in hand and no outside aid was asked.

Churches and undamage homes have been converted into hospitals and havens for the homeless.

Colorado City, Tex., May 15.—Fifteen known dead, scores injured and numerous homes in ruins tell the story of a cyclone that swept through Mitchell county. The dead may exceed 50 when wire communication has been restored.

The cyclone cut a swath 300 yards wide and 30 miles long through the Colorado river valley, a rich farming country, thickly populated. Bodies of the dead and injured were brought to Colorado City. They were gathered from the ruins of ranch houses. Churches and private homes were converted into hospitals and morgues.

Doctors and nurses were rushed here from Sweetwater and Lorraine. Tents from Fort Bliss have been sent to shelter the homeless, which at last estimates exceeded 100. The property loss was not confined to Mitchell county. After the cyclone had spent its force a terrific gale, accompanied by rain and hail, swept eastward.

W. H. Cooper, secretary of the Colorado City chamber of commerce, said the damage could not be accurately estimated until more detailed reports had been received. Estimates placed the property loss at approximately $1,000,000.

Colorado City escaped with comparatively light loss. The storm centered between this city and Lorraine. Scores of farm houses were demolished in this district and telephone communication destroyed. It is believed when communication is restored reports will be received of greater loss of life.

The number of injured accounted for is approximately 100. There are 75 injured now being cared for here. They were brought to Colorado City by automobile rescue parties, which left for a tour of the district after the storm. Rescue work was retarded by flooded highways. Many of the dead and injured are children.

Rescue parties returning here said the prairie was swept bare as a floor over wide areas. Ranch houses and outbuildings were torn up by the roots. Many of the dead and injured lived on the Spade ranch, a few miles south of Colorado City. Live stock loss will be heavy.

DRUG DISTRIBUTING CENTER SMASHED

New York, May 15.—A large narcotic distributing center was believed broken up today as the result of a raid in which $70,000 worth of drugs were seized and one man was arrested. The suspect gave his name as Conen. Two of his alleged confederates are sought by police.

Records appearing to indicate shipments of drugs to addresses in Hollywood, California, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Syracuse and other cities also were found in the tenement room where the drugs were seized, according to Dr. Charlton Simon, head of the narcotic division.

GRAND OPERA SINGER MISSING IN THE EAST

Boston, Mass., May 15.—Lydia Lindgren, missing grand opera singer, who disappeared in New York yesterday, was found here this afternoon. She came to the federal building here to secure final naturalization papers and left word she would later visit friends in Boston. Her husband Raul Quirze, operatic tenor, had reported her disappearance to New York police.

New York, May 15.—Lydie Lindgren, grand opera singer, sometimes referred to as the "Swedish nightingale," has been mysteriously missing since yesterday afternoon, her husband, Paul Quirze, operatic tenor reported to police today.

She wore a 9½ carat diamond solitaire, a pearl necklace and other jewelry valued at $14,000. Her husband said she also might have had a large sum of money.

Quirz said his wife failed to keep a business engagement with her lawyer, Mrs. Anna Hochfelder, yesterday afternoon. He had driven her to the attorney's office in the financial district. He waited in his automobile until 8:30 p. m. but she failed to appear. He said he spent the rest of the night telephoning friends and the hospitals.

He told police he was at a loss to explain her absence. He said there had been no domestic trouble.

Lydia Lindgren is 34 years old. She has sung with both Metropolitan and Chicago opera.

U. S. IS NOT SEEKING SPECIAL ADVANTAGE AT MEXICAN MEET

This Nation Declares Principle of Justice Must Prevail

Mexico City, May 15.—Charles Beecher Warren, who is here with John Barton Payne as representatives of the United States to negotiate possible recognition of the government of President Alvaro Obregon, laid the conditions of the United States before the Mexican commission.

In his opening remarks Mr. Warren outlined the view that while the United States has no wish or desire to interfere with Mexican laws or internal affairs, it is necessary that there be an understanding concerning American property. There can be no compromise on principle, it was emphasized. Any agreements reached should be binding and lasting. Mr. Warren's statement, in part, follows:

"The government of the United States, nor the people of the United States, seek no special advantage in Mexico, no rights which they are not willing to share with others. We have no intention or desire of interfering with the sovereignty of Mexico. We are convinced, however, that certain principles are essential as the basis of economic co-operation between nations. The principles of justice recognized by international law must prevail between nations, in order that trade and commerce may flow with a feeling of certainty between different peoples."

POLICEMAN'S SLAYER SOUGHT FOR CRIME

Cleveland, O., May 15.—John Leonard Whitfield, alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, was to be formally charged with murder by the Cupahoga County Grand Jury today. At the same time the nation-wide search for the man believed to have killed the policeman while they were driving to the fourteenth precinct police station, was on with redoubled vigor. Clues to his whereabouts and that of the woman, Miss Marie Price of Fort Wayne, Indiana, with whom he left Cleveland after burying his victim in a lonely spot in Geauga County, Friday afternoon, were few.

SENATOR HARRISON DINES WITH FORD

Washington, May 15.—Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi came back from Detroit with some kind words about Henry Ford. Senator Harrison was in Detroit with other members of the senate committee on reforestation. He was shown through the automobile plant by Ford himself, and later dined with him. The senator admitted that he was very favorably impressed with Ford's attitude on public questions, as well as with his knowledge of what is going on in the country and in the world in general. As to the prospects of Ford becoming a candidate for president, Senator Harrison was unable to obtain any definite intimation as to what Ford's views on this subject are. Nor was he able to discover whether Ford might try for the Democratic nomination or run independently.

URGE RELEASE OF IRISH PRISONERS

London, May 15.—Home Secretary William Clive Bridgeman informed the House of Commons this afternoon that England is requesting the Irish Free State to release all the Irish men and women who were deported from England to Ireland. All the Irish arrested and detained in England for their activities in behalf of the Irish-Republican cause will be liberated. Some of these prisoners, however, must face criminal proceedings in British courts.

ABANDONS BUSINESS CAREER.

Chicago, May 15.—Muriel McCormick abandoned her business career to devote all her time to preparation for grand opera. The smart gown shop which she sponsored shortly before her father, Harold F. McCormick, married Ganna Walska, announced a "final clearance sale of gowns and wraps." The shop, it was said, would be closed.

LOST TWO HEIRLOOMS.

Pekin, May 15.—Miss Lucy Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is grieving more over the loss of two heirlooms than any other feature of the Shantung bandit holdup, of which she was one of the victims. Miss Aldrich, her companion, Miss McFadden, and her French maid, Mlle. Schloborn, are now recovering from nervous shock at the Pekin Union hospital at the Rockefeller foundation.

HITCH APPEARS IN SETTLEMENT WITH BRIGANDS

Prisoners Still in Hands of Bandits in the Mountains

Pekin, May 15.—Despite the promise of diplomats that the release of captives including Americans, by the Shantung train bandits, might be expected hourly, a settlement today seemed to have been delayed. Latest advices from Lincheng said that the prisoners were still in the hands of the brigands in the mountains.

General Tsao-Kun, inspector general of the Chinese national troops in Shauntung province, who is responsible for the safety of foreigners traveling through that province, did not seem interested in the capture of American, French, British, Mexicacn and Italian citizens by the brigands. it was two days after the seizure before General Tsao-Kun sent a representative to Pekin to inform the government of the "unfortunate incident."

It was reported from Lincheng that the bandit chiefs refused to conclude negotiations with the representatives of the government and the national military authorities until the soldiers who have been besieging the brigands stronghold from a nearby mountain top are withdrawn. The bandit leaders demand that the forces be enrolled at once in the regular army. The governor of Shantung province has agreed to the bandits demands but the latter are distrustful especially of the agreement that they will be granted immunity from their depredations if they release their captives. Meanwhile, they hold on to their prisoners, prolonging negotiations. There are about 15 foreigners still held by the bandits, including two women.

MEETS DEATH AFTER ATTENDING FUNERAL—CAR TURNS OVER

After attending the funeral of his brother, William Lawson, at Yellow Springs, John Lawson, 43, of 167 Mink Street, Columbus was instantly killed at six o'clock Monday evening, when his machine overturned one mile west of Summerford on the National pike. Lawson was enroute home after attending the funeral of his brother earlier in the afternoon, accompanied by his wife ,two nieces, a step-daughter, and sister, when he met his death.

Lawson lost control of the machine on the wet pike, the machine overturning in the ditch pinning Lawson beneath. His neck was broken and his skull fractured. The other members of the party escaped with minor injuries. The automobile was demolished.

Lawson's body was taken to the undertaking establishment of W. E. Lukens, London, and will be removed from there to his home in Columbus. He leaves his wife and two daughters Hazel and Goldie.

URGES TARIFF ON SUGAR BE CUT

Washington, May 15.—Cutting the tariff on sugar in half was urged by Senator Harrison (Dem., Miss.) as the most effective weapon to be used against the sugar barons, who are responsible for the existing high prices. "The president could solve the situation at once by slicing the tariff in two, as he is empowered to do by the tariff law," Senator Harrison said.

"This would save at least $100,000,000 to American sugar consumers. The people throughout the country are dissatisfied with the situation, and it is time the administration did something. Reduction of the tariff would do more than anything else to bring down the sugar prices and it ought to be done at once."

The Democratic national committee issued a statement saying that unless the price of sugar drops, thousands of women will confront President Harding on his forthcoming tour with the question, "What are you going to do to stop this profiteering?"

STRUCK AT CROSSING.

Painesville, O., May 15.—Frederick Saari and Ira Brunner, both 17, met death when an automobile truck in which they were riding was struck by a passenger train at a grade crossing in Perry, near here. Both were residents of Perry.

Three Suits Filed Charging Collusion Between Firm and Director

Columbus, May 15.—The Highway Construction company of Elyria, O., filed four mandamus suits in Ohio supreme court to compel Finance Director Baker to approve payments from the state treasury on road contracts awarded the company by Director Herrick. The company charges that, although regularly awarded the contracts, Baker has refused to approve vouchers for partial payment due the company and that they therefore have been unable to obtain any money and will be unable to go ahead with their contracts.

The supreme court is asked to require Baker to show cause why he should not approve the vouchers or else compel him to approve them. The contracts involved cover approximately 20 miles of road, all in Lorain county. Contract price for the roads total $579,611.

Common Pleas Judge Sowers granted an order temporarily restraining State Treasurer Day from paying further monies to the Highway Construction company on the contracts. The injunction was secured by E. C. Slack, a local taxpayer, who charges that contractors who bid on the jobs were discriminated against by Director Herrick.

CLOUDBURST PRECEDES FIRES IN HOT SPRINGS DAMAGE IS APPALLING

Arkansas City Scene of Indescribable Confusion With Fire Consuming Buildings and Flood Waters Racing Through Streets.

WIRE COMMUNICATION ENTIRELY CUT OFF

Disaster Starts Monday Evening When Heavy Storm Strikes Town—Lightning Plays Havoc With Houses of Stricken City.

St. Louis, Mo., May 15.—Seventeen persons are known to have been killed and a large number of others are missing at Hot Springs, Ark., following the flood and fires there early today, according to a telegram to William M. Baxter Jr., director of the American Red Cross. The telegram said search for additional dead is being pushed forward rapidly.

At the general offices of the Missouri Pacific railway here early today, word was received from a train dispatcher at Hot Springs that the fire was believed to have been brought under control, but the message was so fragmentary and indefinite that it was not accepted as entirely authentic. The operator at Hot Springs confirmed early reports to the Red Cross that seventeen persons were known to have been killed and said many more must have lost their lives.

Chicago, May 15—Hot Springs, Arkansas, a city of 15,000 and with a large tourist population, today is a scene of indescribable confusion with fire consuming its buildings and flood waters racing through the streets.

Wire communciation with the stricken city is entirely cut off and only fraghmentary reports of the disaster could be gathered early today by International News Service over shaky wires to Oklahoma and Tennessee towns. Many lives are reported to have been lost and damage is appalling.

At dawn the St. Louis headquarters of the American Red Cross received the following message from the Red Cross representative in Hot Springs.

"Terrible flood and fire. Damage indescribable. Will need immediate assistance."

National headquarters at Washington immediately was advised of the town's desperate plight, according to William M. Baxter, Jr., the St. Louis Red Cross representative. Preparations were being made to start Henry Baker, division director of relief, to Hot Springs and search was being made for an airplane to carry him. National headquarters directed that no effort be spared to get relief to the town.

At dawn a high wind was reported howling through the streets of the city as an aftermath of the cloudburst. Flames were being driven before it in a raging furnace.

The Marquette hotel and the Marquette block, a business structure adjoining, were reported consumed by the flames. Some persons are believed to have lost their lives in fleeing from the buildings but no estimate has been made of the number of lives lost.

What the loss of life may be from the rushing flood waters is problematical. It may run into large figures or it may be very small. Scores of automobiles are known to have been caught in Central avenue, one of the principal business streets of the city, when the flood was at its height.

Long distance communication here said the tracks of the Missouri Pacific railway were swept away for a distance of four miles beyond the city. A passenger train laden with tourists was said to have been stalled at Denton, a small town nearby. It is not known whether lives of the passengers are endangered. The flood started just before dusk yesterday, when a heavy storm struck the town and quickly became a cloudburst. Terrific electrical displays accompanied it. The full force of the storm struck the mountains to the north and continued most of the night. The water accumulating too fast to pass to the lower levels with natural speed, quickly filled streams, which, overflowing, turned their torrents into Hot Springs.

Rushing from Whittington Park and into Central avenue, the depth of the flood grew, until in places, it is said to have reached nine feet.

Pedestrains were swept from their feet and into the surging maelstorm.

Fronts of stores were smashed in, basements and cellars were inundated and thousands of dollars worth of merchandise floated from the houses into the streets. The streets were filled with maddened citizens attempting to escape to higher points. Lightning began its havoc. Several buildings were struck. The city's fire fighting apparatus was helpless. With fires burning in several localities a general conflagration, the cause of which has not been determined, early today, broke out and added to the terror of the night.

The Marquotte hotel, it is known, was one of the first buildings to burst into flames from a lightning bolt.

BARN IS DESTROYED BY FIRE MONDAY NIGHT—LOSS $5,000

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the dairy barn on the Frank Routzong farm, Fairfield pike between eight and nine o'clock Monday night, resulting in a loss of practically $5,000.

The blaze started while members of the family were away from home and by the time it was discovered the entire building was enveloped. Before members of the family and neighbors arrived at the scene, the building was practically ready to fall in, and the fire had made such headway that no attempt was made to check it.

Mr. and Mrs. Routzong were in the barn at seven o'clock and there was no indication of a fire. Shortly afterward they went to the Collins School less than a mile away, to attend a meeting of the Community Club. People gathered at the school house first discovered the blaze about 8:35 o'clock and hurried to the scene in an attempt to save the structure.

The dairy barn was a frame structure, 40 by 60 feet and of entirely modern construction. Cattle had been released from it before the family left home, but between 100 and 150 chickens were consumed in the holocaust occasioned by the burning building. The contents also included 5 tons of hay, 100 bushels of corn and two or three tons of commercial feed. Members of the family say the blaze could not have started from electric wires and that combustion in the hay is improbable, but they are able to advance no practical theory of the origin of the flames, although unable to assert that the conflagration was due to incendiarism.

The wind carried sparks away from the house, eight or ten rods from the dairy barn and from the other barn, which is about 15 rods from the building that was destroyed, and none of these structures caught from sparks. The loss of $5,000 is partially covered by insurance.

TROUBLE IN GETTING WITNESSES FOUND

New York, May 15.—Difficulty of getting witnesses to come forward in the investigation of "poison pen" letters, which wrecked nine homes, caused one suicide and sent several persons to the insane asylum, is increasing daily. Several have disappeared from New York. Society women of Philadelphia and elsewhere, who were attacked in the scurrilous letters, are reluctant to come here, and many have flatly refused to do so. While friends of George Maxwell, leader in musical circles, are defending him on the charges of being the author of the letters, the district attorney's office declares the evidence against Maxwell is strong.

Many of the foremost British and French professionals also were among the contestants.

Thirty-two players will remain in the field after the qualifying test today.

HAMILTON MOVERS HERE SUNDAY

Frank Hamilton's Movers of Cincinnati will help entertain local baseball fans at Washington Park, when they stack up against the Bayliffs, next Sunday.

The Movers have been playing a bang-up article of ball this season and out of three games played have not dropped a single contest. Wherever they have played a large crowd has turned out to watch them in action. The Queen City bunch has a nifty combination and just about as good as the best of the semi-pro clubs. The Movers are in the K. I. O. League of Cincinnati.

Burg will do the twirling for the Queen City bunch while Hamilton who is manager will do the receiving. The balance of the team is of high class calibre.

The Bayliffs are anticipating a hard game. Manager Bayliff will probably start McDonnell or Cooper on the mound. Both of these flingers are hard workmen and have a nice assortment of puzzling twisters. Bayne of Dayton, will be behind the plate. The same bunch of warriors that started in Sunday's game will be on hand again. Play will start at 2:30 o'clock with Rachford and Davis in charge. Manager Bayliff wishes that all the players be at Washington Park on Wednesday evening at five o'clock or later for practice.

Wilberforce Wins Shutout Game

A battle of the Jones' was staged at Wilberforce University ball yard Monday afternoon, when two lads with the same unusual monickers opposed each other on the hillock and turned in a hurling duel that featured the 4 to 0 shutout victory the Wilberforce nine registered over West Varginia Institute of Charlestown, W. Va.

A. Jones of Wilberforce and T. Jones of the Institute nine turned in as sweet an exhibition of mound work as ever seen at Wilberforce, the Ohio hurler having the edge in the duel, while his teammates supported him more carefully than did the defense accorded the visiting tosser. A. Jones permitted but two hits in registering his whitewash victory, while T. Jones allowed the Wilberforce gang five hits and enough to win.

The game was delayed because of an eleventh-hour protest of Spriggs, Wilberforce's star outfielder, on the grounds that the gardener was formerly registered at the institute. Wilberforce won the argument and it was Spriggs' hit in the eighth that brought in the last two counters for Wilberforce and iced the contest. The games was played before 1,500 fans and if the diamond is in condition, they are to repeat Tuesday afternoon. The score:

Wilberforce	4 5 3
West Virgina	0 2 5

Batteries—Wilberforce— Jones and Huff; West Virginia —Jones and Drewery.

CENTRAL GRADUATES PREPARE FOR FINAL SCHOOL EXERCISES

In spite of the fact that the new Central High School building was not ready for the junior-senior reception held last week, positive assurance has ben given that the structure will be completed in time to house the annual Commencement exercises to be held May 25.

Plans for the junior reception were changed at the last minute because promised completion of the basement dining room at the new school was not forthcoming, and the annual affair was held in the home of many of its predecessors, the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Anxiety as to wether the class of 1923 would be able to go through its graduation exercises in the new building were set aside Tuesday with the announcement of Supt. of Schools C. A. Waltz that the sixty-fourth annual Commencement of Central High will be held in the Jean B. Elwell auditorium of the new building Friday, May 25, at eight o'clock in the evening. The class address will be delivered by Charles E. Watkins of the General Motors Corporation, Muncie, Indiana.

WORK CERTIFICATES MUST BE OBTAINED

School children between the ages of 14 and 18 years, will have to obtain working certificates from Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz if they wish to seek employment this summer, it is announced.

Governor Donahey's veto of the Bloom amendment to the original Bing Bill, leaves the original school law stand and makes it necessary for children to obtain the certificates to permit them to work during vacation periods.

When the amendment was passed Superintendent Waltz told several applicants that they would not need working certificates this summer. The Governor's veto however, reverting the law to its original provisions, makes it necessary for these certificates to be obtained.

ROTARY MEMBERS HEAR ADDRESS ON MINING OF COAL

The mining and selling of coal, from the mines to the retail dealer, was explained by J. J. Stout, president of the Stout Coal Company, this city, in an address before members of the Xenia Rotary Club, following the club luncheon, Tuesday noon.

Mr. Stout explained the operation of the coal mines, the expense of mining the coal, building of railroads installation of machinery, and details of the work of the coal miner. Despite the fact that the operator gets only $1 a ton for the coal, according to Mr. Stout, he is able to make big money. The interesting operation of the transportation of coal by electric railways, and the sorting work was explained by the speaker. Between 60 and 80 cars are loaded each day, according to Mr. Stout. The miner plays only a small part in the coal business, and is handicapped by the unions, he said. At present, Mr. Stout said, the railroads, are not able to handle the business the coal mines are giving them. The people are demanding lump coal, which causes the inferior grades to be discarded, he explained.

C. W. Murphy, president, was in charge of the meeting. Frank H. Hermies, Dayton Rotarian, was present at the meeting, and gave a short talk.

Women May Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I had heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that when I realized I needed to take something to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up I began to take that. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds, but now I have had such good results that I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to every one."—Mrs. J. J. BIEBER, 3939 18th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn.

"Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 3227 Walnut Street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness so badly that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed and I had pains in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I could think of to help myself, and when a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

"I TOLD YOU SO," IS TOKIO CHORUS ON CHINA AFFAIR.

Reports circulating in Tokio that the United States contemplates armed intervention and possibly a punitive expedition in China as a result of the bandits' attack on foreigners, evokes from the Japanese press, a chorus of "I told you so" and a warning to the Government to watch America. The nationalistic "Kokumin" declares the United States knows nothing of China and unjustly accused Japan of aggressive intentions when the latter previously suggested more effective means of protecting foreigners in China.

"The United States and Great Britain thought they were helping China when they pressed for the withdrawal of Japanese postoffices and Japanese troops here," says the "Kokumin," "but doubtless they are disillusioned now. Can they now regard China as a civilized country and treat her people as civilized? It is most important that measures to prevent a recurrence be taken."

The "Yorodzu" says Japan will not take direct action as Japanese are not involved, but should America proceed she would not keep silent. "America has a blind ambition in China and should be watched keenly," the paper warns.

The "Asahi," which received the prediction of United States action from its New York correspondent, in an editorial will advise caution. Foreign Office officials who were interviewed said Japan only awaited action by other Powers, and that she probably would be willing to participate in concerted action to safeguard foreigners' lives and property.

Owing to China's recent demands on Japan, the editors are taking special pains to point out the obvious short-comings of the pseudo-government at Peking.

The "Nichi Nichi" says: "The old saying that eloquence and fidelity do not go together applies to China. Ever since the Treaty of Versailles she has resorted to the subtlest methods to prejudice Japan before the world. She promised much and has done nothing. It is to be hoped that the Powers will realize their mistake of over-confidence in China."

The "Hochi" says: "The bandits' attack has made the gravest incident in China for years. We earnestly urge the Chinese Government and people to endeavor to put their own house in order before trying to compel others to respect their sovereignty and territorial rights."

LET US SUPPOSE A CASE.

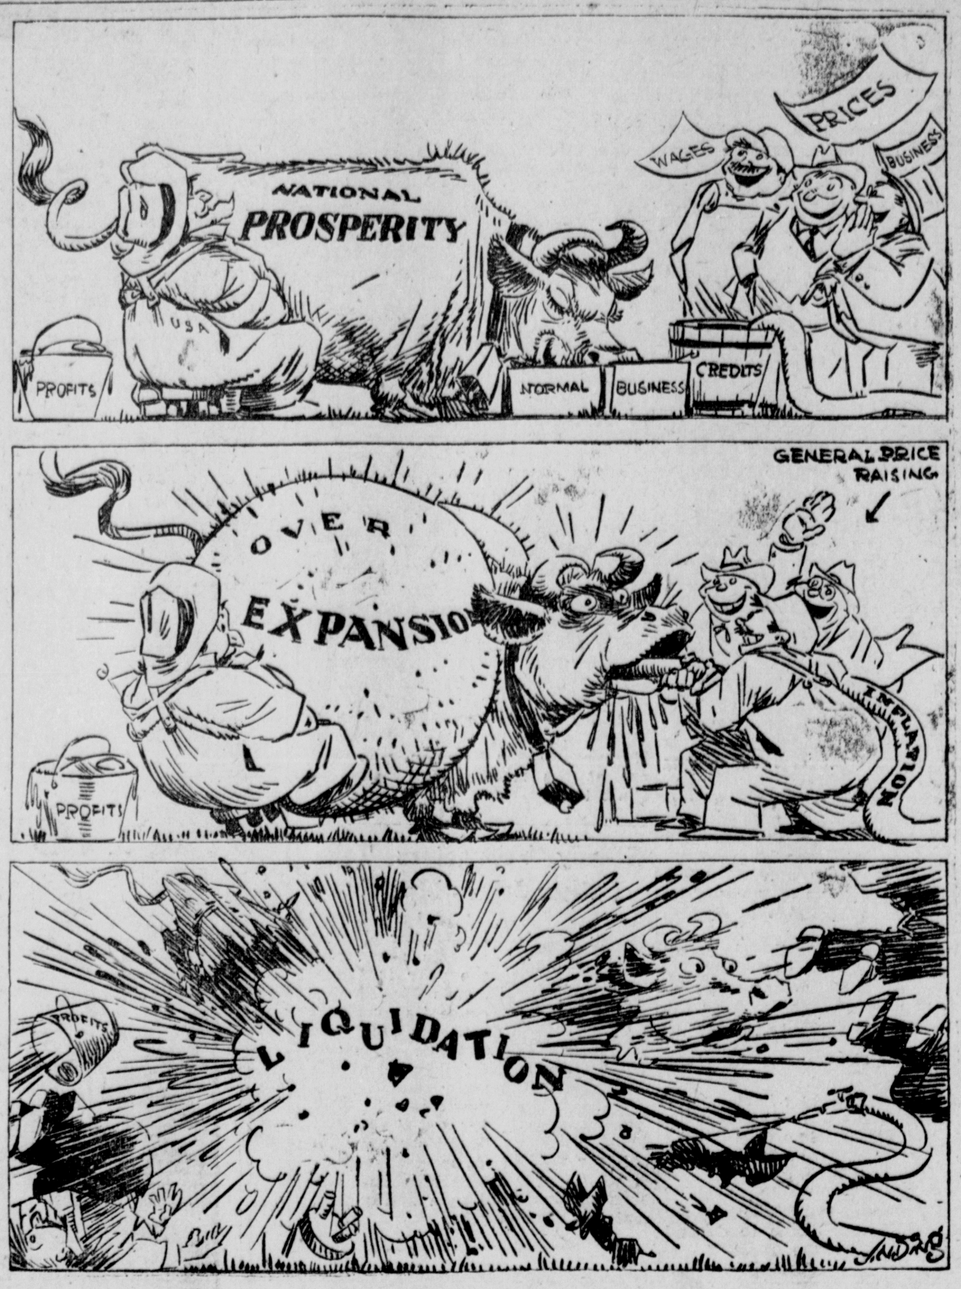

We do not believe that it is prejudice that prompts us to take exception to the assertion of one of our Democratic contemporaries who says that the United States "double-crossed" our associates in the war when we refused to ratify the Versailles Treaty with its League of Nations covenant.

Before proceeding to a statement of what was done at Versailles let us present a somewhat similar situation when individuals are involved. Let us suppose that negotiations are pending among a number of concerns, one of them a partnership in which the consent of both partners is necessary before an agreement can be concluded. One partner goes to participate in the negotiations with full knowledge on the part of the other concerns that he cannot bind his firm without the consent of the other partner. While the negotiations are proceeding, the absent partner learns that it is planned to include in the agreement a certain clause to which he strenuously objects. In order that he may not be later charged with bad faith, he notifies all the parties that he will not ratify if they include the objectionable clause. Notwithstanding that notice, the other concerns and the one partner proceed to complete the agreement. The other partner refuses to ratify, as he said he would, and the agreement is not effected. Under such circumstances, any man who declared that the partnership had "double-crossed" the other negotiators would be a plain, everyday liar.

Just such a proceeding took place during the Versailles conference. It was known in advance to all the nations there represented that the Constitution of the United States expressly provides that no treaty shall become binding upon the United States until ratified by a two-thirds vote of the Senate. Mr. Wilson went to Versailles and undertook to insert a league of nations provision in the treaty. His partner in the treaty-making power, the Senate, notified him and the other negotiators that they would not ratify the treaty unless permitted to make proper reservations safeguarding America. Nevertheless, they all went ahead and concluded the agreement, with the league covenant included, and the absent partner refused to ratify, as he said he would.

Did the United States "double-cross" the other parties to the agreement? Not at all.

A Successful Man

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line.

Over fifty years ago this noted physician gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equaled for the weaknesses of women. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all thru treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening pains, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it in both tablet and fluid form.

Right Medicine for Catarrh of the Stomach

It took Mr. John Wick of Menominee Falls, Wisconsin, ten years to discover this fact but he has been a well man since. He writes: "I have been a user of Pe-ru-na for nearly twenty years. For about ten years I had catarrh of the stomach. Nothing did me any good. I grew worse until a friend advised me to try Pe-ru-na. I knew I had found the right medicine after using the first bottle. My weight was down to 135 pounds. I now weigh 195. I feel entirely cured and have had little use for medicine the last ten years."

Pe-ru-na has proved to be a wonderfully good medicine to keep in the house for every-day ills such as coughs, colds, catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders and other catarrhal conditions.

A complete chain of boiling points is as essential to good motor fuel as an unbroken flight of rungs to a ladder. To function efficiently and economically, gasoline must have a low initial "boiling point" to make it vaporize easily—start the motor quickly, a connecting series of gradually rising "boiling points" that it may burn up clean—provide smooth, fast acceleration, and the proper body of higher "boiling points" to produce great heat—full power and big mileage.

Red Crown Gasoline has this complete chain of boiling points. It gives you the strongest and cheapest ladder to the highest point of year-'round motoring satisfaction. Available everywhere in Ohio. Always dependable, whether bought at one of the 400 Standard Service Stations or from any Red Crown dealer.

OVER TWENTY EIGHT THOUSAND CHICKS HATCHED AT BABB'S

More than twenty-eight thousand fluffy little baby chicks have peeped their greetings to the gay spring world at the Babb Hardware Co., hatchery this season and at the tender age of only one day have been shipped to buyers in various parts of the country.

Large numbers of them are sold to poultry raisers in this county and throughout this state but many of the tiny fowls take long trips by parcel post, and go to buyers in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Texas, Florida and Mississippi.

All are thoroughbreds of the three most popular breeds, the Barred Plymouth Rocks, Single Comb Rhode Island Reds and Buff Orpingtons.

The Babb hatchery has a huge incubator with a capacity for 10,500 eggs and is kept full all through the hatching season. Every Monday from 2,000 to 2,500 chicks are hatched out and the next day are shipped out to the purchasers. The big incubator has a heating system that keeps the temperature automatically regulated so that there is practically no variation of temperature. The tiny chicks are kept in trays in the lower part of the incubator.

The hatching season is from February to June.

NO BREAK FEARED BY GREAT BRITAIN

London, May 15—It was regarded as virtually certain today that there would be no break between Great Britain and soviet Russia over the ultimatum sent by Foreign Secretary Lord Curzon to Moscow.

Britain's Russian policy was under debate in the house of commons today. Tory "whips" were active, getting all government supporters into their seats, for it was anticipated that the English policy towards Moscow, particularly as outlined in the trawler ultimatum, would come under heavy fire.

GAINED TEN POUNDS IN 6 WEEKS

Youngstown Woman Recovers Health Taking Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup.

"I not only gained ten pounds in the six weeks I've been taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, but I am now feeling better in every way than I have in many years" said Mrs. Emma M. McCoy, 646 Mahoning Ave., Youngstown, O., the other day.

"For years I had been troubled with a torpid liver and chronic constipation. My tongue was coated, my breath offensive and I could hardly eat enough to keep alive. I could never sleep sound at night and often dizzy spells would cause me to reel and stagger when I tried to walk. I lost about fifteen pounds and looked like I had no blood in my veins.

"After taking three bottles of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup my constipation has been relieved, my liver is acting right, my dizziness is gone, a good healthy color has come into my cheeks and I am gaining in strength and energy every day. I felt so fine that I persuaded my sister to try it and it has simply done wonders for her, too."

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is handled by G. O. Carpenter, Jamestown. adv

"Well, well," exclaimed the favorite customer, "who'd have thought a little hair-trim would make my cap too big?"

"If I may suggest, sir," replied the head barber, "try one of those 'SURE-FIT' caps that you can snug in after a haircut. They always fit."

AND that's only one reason why "SURE-FIT" is the world's most comfortable cap.

No elastic to bind the forehead. The simple adjusting strap (hidden above the visor) works the same way as a belt. A slight pull, and your "SURE-FIT" is tighter or looser, as you prefer.

All the new Fifth Avenue styles, in the latest patterns from American and overseas mills. Prices the same as you'd pay for any stylish cap—and you get "SURE-FIT'S" unrivalled comfort.

Important: Our better grade "SURE-FITS" are specially treated so that they shed showers. Thus they keep their shape, last longer, look better, and give you 100% comfort on a rainy day.

DR. C. G. M'PHERSON RESIGNS POSITION AS HEAD OF LEGION

Dr. C. G. McPherson, newly elected city commissioner, tendered his resignation as commander of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion at the Post meeting Monday night.

Dr. B. R. McClellan, chaplain of Foody Post since its organization, was elected to succeed Dr. McPherson as commander and a new chaplain will be appointed later.

Dr. McPherson's resignation takes effect May 24, at which time he will be sworn in as a member of the commission. The constitution and by-laws of the Legion provide that no member holding public office can also hold office in the Legion and necessitated the new commissioner resigning his position as head of the Post.

Dr. McPherson had served only a few months of his term as commander. Plans for stimulating the membership campaign at the behest of State Commander Gilbert Bettman of Cincinnati who hopes to greatly increase the membership of the Ohio Department this year, were discussed at the meeting. There is a permanent membership committee now functioning and members of the post pledged themselves to extra efforts to build up the personnel of the organization at Monday night's meeting.

PASSING AUTOISTS TAKE FANCY TO DOG; OWNERS SEEKING IT

"Psyche," a fox terrier belonging to Mr and Mrs. J. B. Rife, of near Cedarville, had such attraction for motorists near the Rife farm Sunday afternoon, that she was taken up and carried away in a machine, with her owners looking on.

Mrs. Rife saw the incident, but was unable to stop the theft. Mr. and Mrs. Rife are using every means to secure the return of the dog.

To make only tires of the greatest value, and to sell them at the fairest price has always been the basic policy of Goodrich.

The success of Silvertown Cords is conclusive proof of the soundness of this principle. Silvertowns embody all that must be in tires.

Goodrich makes only the one grade of Cord tires. The reputation of Goodrich is valued too highly to permit the name to appear on a tire which might fall short of its users rightful expectations.

In this way Goodrich keeps faith with the millions who trust to Silvertowns for full value and economy of service. Your Goodrich dealer sells Silvertowns in every size. His stock is new and fresh.

SHOULD CELEBRATE MEMORIAL DAY IN SPIRIT OF OCCASION

In anticipation of the annual Memorial Day ceremonies, in which Lewis Post, G. A. R., is leaning more on the shoulders of members of the younger patriotic organizations, the Post, through J. W. Hedges, chairman of the memorial committee, has given out the following statement:

"The General Order of General Logan, establishing Memorial Day, provided only for remembrance of the honored dead of the Civil War.

"Common usage, however, immediately included care and attenton to the graves of those who had fought in previous wars. When the veterans of the Spanish American War came home after their services in all parts of the country they offered their aid to the older comrades in carrying out the program outlined and for 20 years wherever there has been an organization of those soldiers the spirit of cooperation has held forth.

"With the advent of millions of veterans of the World War with their local organizations reaching every village and hmlet, another great body for the carrying on the work is at hand. Just who it is that takes charge of these observances is a matter to be determined by local conditions.

"There are thousands of places where there are no Grand Army men left to observe the day. In such cases other organizations should co-operate and take the position of the Grand Army of the Republic, sacredly observing the day. Only where the Grand Army is still strong enough to carry on the work, it should go to the front in leading the exercises because of its history and seniority. The G. A. R. in Xenia is thankful to all orders for their help as we are not able to carry on this great task. All that we expect of the junior veterans is that they will take up wherever they may be this sacred work, and perform it in the spirit and ideals which the Grand Army has maintained for a half century. Co-operation in this sacred duty should be the aim of all.

"For 50 years the Grand Army of the Republic has striven to make Memorial Day a sacred Sabbath of American patriotism. It has stubbornly and tenaciously fought for this high ideal for Memorial Day and it has frowned upon all efforts to make it a common holiday with horse racing and baseball and other sporting events. It is a day of remembrance for all men, who have responded to the Nation's call for defenders and all of them are of equal merit in the eyes of the Grand Army of the Republic.

"The day should be sacredly observed in every part of the country, in each village and cross roads, where are found the graves of men who once rallied to the defense of the flag. On such a sacred day there can be no rivalry only emulation.

"All veterans alike should be remembered on May 30. Let the graves of every man who served in any war be remembered this Memorial Day.

"The G. A. R. would be thankful if all orders would join with us in the parade and help make the day a pride to the flag.

"(Signed) J. W. Hedges,
Chairman, Memorial Committee"

RESIDENCE RAZED BY FIRE MONDAY

Fire completely destroyed the combined blacksmith shop, second-hand store and residence of Amos A. Gwynn, colored, 835 East Church street, shortly after nine o'clock Monday night.

Loss estimated at $500 was occasioned when the blaze started from an overheated stove while Gwynn was away from home and compietely gutted the little frame structure, before firemen got it under subjection. When the blaze was discovered the fire had gained much headway, and by the time the Fire Department had made the long run, the building was enveloped in flames.

Firemen worked more than an hour to finally extinguish the conflagration with several streams of water playing on the burning building. The fire was discovered by neighbors and the alarm sent in shortly after nine o'clock. Included in contests lost was secondhand furniture.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

A PLEDGE IS GIVEN

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

Ann Peabody, a New England girl, marries Dick Belden, a California rancher. The latter is a fine, hard-working chap, but with weaknesses that worry his wife. Grace Edmunds, an adventure loving, unscrupulous girl interferes with the happiness of the Belden home. Dick is flattered by her attentions, and when Ann objects, grows angry. He say he will be "tied to no woman's apron strings," and shows his resentment openly. Finally he invites Grace to stay with them, although Ann declared that if Grace comes she goes. Grace accepts Dick's invitation, and, with Nora and little Jack, Ann makes Dr. Grayson's home headquarters. Grace and Dick quarrel. The former leaves the Belden ranch and succeeds in kidnaping little Jack. Dick, frantic, recalls Ann. Hugh Norton finds Jack.

Chapter LXXXV

When Hugh said that Grace declared Dick had virtually made her mistress of his home, Ann flushed a deep red, then grew pale. Was it—could it be true that Dick had gone so far? She looked at him, and the anger in his face, his blazing eyes somewhat reassured her.

"She lies," he said hoarsely, to no one in particular.

"Where is she now?" Bessie asked.

"On her way to your ranch, I believe. Said she was going for her clothes, that she hated every one of you. She was very bitter at you, Bess for coming over every day and staying."

"What else could I do?" Bessie asked. "I couldn't—"

"Had you not, Bess, I should have not remained in the house at night," Dick said in a low voice. "I was planning to sleep in the tool house."

"I believe you, Dick!" Hugh said heartily. "You are too much of a man to compromise a girl, even if you were angry at Ann."

Ann looked up in astonishment at Hugh's plain speaking, surprised he had mentioned Dick's anger at her.

"Well, I suppose I'd better go home," Bessie broke in. "I have a few things to say to Grace before she goes—of she does go."

Hugh lingered.

Ann took little Jack into the house. He was full of chatter about "Gace," and sleeping in the hotel. Ann gathered that Gracec had been very kind to him, that she had kept him ocntented and happy. She had been so fearful that something might happen to him that in a way his babyish account of the good time had softened her a bit toward Grace. She gave him his luncheon, put him to bed for his nap, then joined Dick and Hugh on the porch.

"I've had it out with this silly husband of yours, Ann. We are friends again. That he should be jealous of me, of any expression of gratitude I made, is inconceivable. That he was, proves he didn't care much for anyone else, even if he did act as if he did. I'll toddle along after Bess now, and will tow your car back here. You may need it."

"Hugh, have you any idea what she was going to do with Jack if you had not caught her?" Ann asked.

"Probably brought him back herself before night," he said. But as he drove away, his face was very serious. He had not told them that Grace had declared her intention to take the boy to San Francisco, to give them a good scare, because of the way Ann, and then Dick had treated her. He intended to have another talk with Grace, to make her understand she could expect no mercy if she interfered with the Belden household again.

They were alone at last. Ann heard Nora bustling about, cleaning the house, but Dick sat with his head bowed, evidently oblivious to everything but his thoughts. Finally he spoke:

"Ann, shall we commence all over again? There is no use talking of what is passed. And believed it or not, I have been punished enough— three days of hell," the last so low she scarcely caught it and evidently spoken to himself. "You must believe that I have not been unfaithful, Ann, bad as things look. I was crazy and she made me more so, made me believe you didn't care for me, that you loved Hugh."

Ann waited, silent. After a bit Dick went on: "I was sort of wild over her. She was so bright and—different. I guess she knew it as that, her difference. I am not making apology, Ann, not even asking you to forgive me—but shall we commence all over again or are you too disgusted with me to try?"

Still Ann was silent. How like Dick to make no plea for forgiveness. But he was suffering, ashamed, that she knew. His desire to get even had put him in an unenviable position with everyone they knew at all intimately. And in spite of her doubts, her knowledge that he rad made love to Grace, she believed him when he said he had gone no further; that he had not been unfaithful.

He raised his eyes to her, pleading boyish eyes.

"Dick, will you do somthing for—all of us?" she asked. She had been about to say "for me," then changed it.

"Anything, Ann. What is it?"

"Will you swear, sign a pledge never to drink again?"

"Why, Ann—"

"I mean it, Dick. I believe that had you never drunk this never would have happened. Will you?"

"Yes, Ann, I'll swear never to touch a drop again, although I can't quite see the connection."

Ann went into the house, wrote out a pledge, brought it to him and he signed it. So far she had not mentioned Grace's name to him. He waited, moving uneasily in his chair, sure that she would speak of her.

Tomorrow—Ann and Dick.
